TEN CENTS PER WEEK

CHIEF JAS. WOOD'S FATE IN HANDS OF HIS ENEMIES NOW

Civil Service Regulations Imposed by Legislature Are Not Binding on Board.

Two Commissioners Are Opposed to Him.

MAYOR SMITH HOLDS BALANCE

I do not consider the act of the legislature, known as subsection 3 of section 3142-a, in so far as it prescribes that written charges must be filed and investigation made before a fireman can be discharged, as binding upon the police and fire commissioners, because it is an attempt to directly regulate and control the firemen in cities of the second class, and which is beyond the power of the legislature.

According to the opinion of City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., of which the foregoing is the conclusion.

Chief James Wood may be dropped from the fire department without the formality of charges under civil service rules. The board will meet, probably, the first of next week to elect firemen. The question was left open at the last meeting, because the fire commissioners did not know whether the act of the legislature, which says: "No officer, member or employee thereof (referring to the fire department), shall be fired, reprimanded, removed, suspended or dismissed from the fire department until written charges have been made or referred against him or them, nor until such charges have been examined, heard and investigated by said board and sustained," was binding.

Mr. Campbell found a decision handed down by Judge O'Rear, of the court of appeals, which says: "Certain public officers, such as police and members of council, and all who by the nature of their positions serve the whole state in so far as their jurisdictions extend in dealing with matters with which the state as a whole is concerned, and which might have been required of any other body of magistrates with as much legal propriety, are confessedly subject to direct control by the state through its legislature. But mere employees, firemen and the like, are not subject of legislative control."

Commissioners R. R. Sutherland and Mann Clark are opposed to Chief Wood, while the mayor remains non-committal. He will not vote against the chief unless he can get as good or a better man for the place.

Mr. Campbell's opinion was furnished on request, without reference to the approaching election.

Another Confession

Union City, Tenn., Jan. 15.—Ethelbert Rogers, one of the men under arrest awaiting trial for complicity in the murder of Capt. Rankin, for which the eight men just tried, were convicted, caused a revival of excitement in the night rider situation by making a full and complete confession to Attorney General Caldwell. Rogers is one of the three wealthy men implicated. Rogers' story in detail will concern some of the wealthiest and most prominent families in Western Tennessee.

NEW OFFICERS

INSTALLED BY THE MARINE ENGINEERS, NO. 24.

James Weston, Delegate to Annual Convention Leaves for Washington, D. C.

New officers for the ensuing year of the local association, No. 24 of Marine Engineers were properly inducted into their respective offices last night by C. N. Vosburg, third national vice president, of New Orleans, in a very impressive and interesting manner. After the installation of officers the association enjoyed a smoker and fine refreshments. Mr. James Weston, of Paducah, Charles James, of Cairo, and C. N. Vosburg, delegates to the annual convention held at Washington D. C., of the M. E. B. A., January 18, left at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

Two Desperate Prisoners Dig Way Out of Fulton Co. Jail and Escape —Second Break in Last Few Years

Divorce Suit Filed by Charles Bronston at Lexington, Ky. Against Mrs. Belle Wisdom Bronston Alleging Desertion

Hickman, Ky., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—T. C. Bullard, alias Angus Pitts, confidence man and forger, and T. B. Mayes, a forger, dug out of jail and escaped.

A few weeks ago four prisoners assaulted the jailer and escaped.

Bronston Divorce Suit.
Lexington, Ky., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—Charles Bronston filed suit this morning for divorce from Belle Wisdom Bronston, alleging abandonment. They were married in 1897 and the plaintiff says she abandoned him in March, 1907, without cause. He says she has $75,000 in her own name and seeks to recover $25,780, which he gave her during their married life. Mrs. Bronston was from Paducah.

The Bronston family troubles are well known. Mrs. Bronston has been compelled several times to leave her husband.

No Friction.
Frankfort, Jan. 15.—(Special.)—Governor Wilson denies there is friction in his official family.

INTERESTING ADDRESS AT BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Dr. R. H. Crossfield and Prof. J. E. Sturges, who are conducting revival services at the First Christian church with the Rev. S. B. Moore, visited Draughton's Business college on the invitation of Prof. Rouse at 11 o'clock on Friday. President Crossfield spoke to the student body on "Elements of Successful Business Life" and made a lasting impression. The address was received with great applause both by the teachers and students.

Unemployed Stand Firm

Cardiff, Wales, Jan. 15.—Lawyers still hold the Bute estate with red flag raised, although the courts issued an order, ejecting them. The declare they will resist if the ejection is sent. Many persons, including land owners, are urging Bute to allow the unemployed to cultivate his game preserve. Others fear such a course will cause the unemployed in other sections to seize land and advise Bute to insist that the troops drive out the trespassers. Serious trouble is feared.

HONOR PUPILS OF HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR CLASS ARE DESIGNATED BY PRINCIPAL

Honor pupils of the first-year graduating class of the H. school were announced this morning at opening exercises by Prof. W. J. Sugg. The valedictory was won by Miss Marian Williamson with average per cent of 96.3-16, and a second honor, the salutary, by Isma Yelzer with an average percent of 91.21-32. Although the honor pupils have been announced, they will not be any mid-year commencement, as the financial department of the board is not sufficient to bear a burden. The plan is to grant diplomas to any of the graduates it want them, but wait until next year when the annual commencement will be held, and both classes participate. However, this plan is not proved satisfactory to the graduates.

WEATHER.

THREATENING
Threatening and prof rain tonight and Saturday; no change in temperature. Highest temperature yesterday, 44; lowest 35. Rainfall, 15 inches.

GIRL ORATORS.

Two High school girls, Misses Alfie D. Foster and Clara Smith, have announced their intention of competing in the primary oratorical contest for the selection of an orator to represent the High school at the inter-High school oratorical contest of schools in western Kentucky, which will be held in Madisonville next month. With the two girls there will be five in the contest, as Edwin Mitchell, Frank Luftenberg and Marvin Sills have announced their intention of competing. The entrance of the girls for the honors is an innovation, but all of the members of the faculty are pleased to see the girls take part in the oratorical contests. The coaches declare they will make the boys work to win the honor.

MRS. PIPPIN

DIES OF LIVER TROUBLE AFTER TWO WEEKS' ILLNESS.

Young Matron Is Survived By Her Husband and Two Small Children—The Funeral.

Mrs. Bertha Pippin, 22 years old, died at 10 o'clock last night at her home at the extreme end of North Eighth street, after a two weeks' illness of liver trouble. Mrs. Pippin was a member of the Twelfth Street Baptist church. She is survived by her husband, Mr. G. W. Pippin, who is a farmer, and two small children. The funeral services were conducted this morning at 11 o'clock at the residence by the Rev. J. R. Clark, pastor of the Twelfth Street Baptist church. The funeral was held this afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Mt. Kenton cemetery.

In Circuit Court.
Suit was filed by J. R. Smith & Son against J. C. Bonner, alleging that $132.96 is due on account.

George W. Katterjohn, a contractor, filed suit against Mrs. William M. Mills for $38.82, alleging that the amount was due for sidewalk improvements made during the summer.

PITTSBURGLAR IS GIVEN 15 YEARS FOR LOOTING BANK

Pittsburgh, Jan. 15.—J. F. B. Rhinehart, former president of the Farmers and Drivers' National bank, was found guilty of looting the bank of over a million dollars. Within an hour after the verdict Rhinehart was sentenced to 15 years.

of the February class. The present semester will close February 29, but next week will be the last week for the Senior A class, as the custom of giving the graduates a week off will be observed this year.

Miss Williamson, the valedictorian, is the daughter of Mrs. Minnie W. Williamson, and a young woman who made one of the highest per cents ever made in the High school. Miss Yelzer is the daughter of former Mayor and Mrs. D. A. Yelzer, and besides being a bright student, is a popular young woman.

The other members of the class are: Lucy, Belle Settle, Elizabeth Kirkland, George Rawleigh and George Scott. Mr. Scott is now attending the State University.

While the failure to have mid-year commencement is causing anxiety to the friends of the graduates, many other city high schools have discontinued it. Evansville combined commencements of the two classes several years ago, and this year the Des Moines High school followed suit. All of the school regret the action of the school board, but realize that the expense is too heavy, as the commencements have not been self-sustaining for several years.

MERCHANTS WILL NOT HAVE TO PAY EXTRA LICENSES

Conspiracy Afoot to Make Them Catspaws of Unscrupulous Politicians.

Purpose is to Interfere With Administration.

SHOULD AWAIT A DECISION

The yelp that echoed through the corridors on the second floor of the city hall this morning indicates that somebody's dog was hit by The Sun last evening and gives rise to a well-founded suspicion that there is a conspiracy afoot to emasculate the license ordinance recently passed by the general council, and merchants are being tricked into acting as catspaws for some small fry politicians.

If the license inspector and treasury muddle was settled, this could not occur, but as it is, one set of officials on the second floor of the city hall do not confer with the executive department, and informed merchants that they would have to pay extra license for every particular article they handle in their store. Under this construction, there would be nothing for a merchant to do but submit to extortion or go to law. Mayor Smith, Auditor Kirkland and others, who knew as much about that ordinance as anybody else, say the merchants' license is comprehensive and includes all the stores, and wherein special lines are mentioned, they are intended to catch such concerns as would try to avoid a license as a general merchant. The ordinance provides that when there is a difference of opinion as to its construction, the mayor shall act as referee.

A little clique is anxious to spoil the mayor's plans for the improvement of the city, and do not even care whether they interfere with the purpose of increasing the appropriation for the Home of the Friendless, the construction of the Island creek bridge, the erection of a contagious ward at the hospital, the improvement and sprinkling of streets, the wiping out of the floating debt, or any of the numerous enterprises proposed, which will eventually result in a reduction of the tax rate. They desire to interfere with the administration's plans, through malice, and one way to do that is to get the license ordinance torn to pieces.

The Merchant's Part.
Merchants are not complaining at the merchant's license, but they decline to pay it three or four times over. There is no reason why they should, except that one bunch of unrecognized claimants to city pie, entrenched in the office of the city clerk, are telling the merchants they must pay three or four times as much license as the law says they must.

The purpose is to force merchants to petition the general council for a change in the ordinance or to go to law about it. It is mighty little politics, and it will do the city great injury, but the men engaged in the conspiracy haven't any financial interest in Paducah or regard for its welfare, outside the living it affords them.

It has been suggested that if these merchants will hold their peace until the settlement of disputes over the right to city offices, there will be no question raised of their right to do business under a merchant's license. City Solicitor Campbell, when requested by G. W. Walters, who is contesting the right of City Treasurer Dorian to hold office, informed Walters that the tax collector must follow the law, but in case of disagreement the mayor is the referee. Mayor Smith said $25 is the fee, and the complaining merchants tendered that sum, and, being refused, decided to await developments.

No Government Buildings.
Washington, Jan. 15.—The house committee on public buildings and grounds decided not to recommend any new government buildings this session.

NO RACE SUICIDE GOES UNDER TAFT ADMINISTRATION

Crawfordsville, Ga., Jan. 15.—Mr. Taft is following Roosevelt's example as opponent of race suicide. He addressed a crowd here. He told the people one of the fundamental principles of the present Republican administration was gathering large families. He promised to continue the principle in the next administration.

ITALIAN RELIEF FUND.

L. Viviani has been designated by J. P. Cuneo, Italian consular agent at Louisville, to collect funds for the earthquake sufferers. M. Viviani received a letter from the consul today, advising him of the appointment and enclosing a circular letter, requesting funds. Mr. Viviani will solicit funds for the relief of the stricken provinces. He, himself, is a native of Tuscany.

THORNTON HAINS IS ACQUITTED OF MURDER OF ANNIS

There is every indication this afternoon of a mistrial. When the jurors went to dinner they appeared as far from an agreement as ever. McIntyre claims he secured absolute information that the jury stands ten to two in favor of acquittal. Darrin insists there will be a manslaughter verdict or a disagreement. Jurors are showing the strain. Two are seriously ill and frequently require medical attention. While hearing the evidence read, one juror asked that the jury be discharged if it couldn't agree in an hour. Crane refused, saying their duty was to reach a verdict, if possible.

Flushing, L. I., Jan. 15.—Thornton Hains, charged with complicity in the murder of Annis, was acquitted today after the jury had been out 22 hours. Peter Hains, brother of Thornton, accused Annis of ruining his home, while he was an officer in the Philippines. He shot and killed Annis, editor of the Burr McIntosh magazine, and Thornton Hains drew a revolver and kept off the crowd, which gathered, until the police arrested them both. He contended that his brother was crazed by his wife's confession, and that he acted only as a brother in defending Peter. It is now believed that Peter Hains will be found insane and committed to an asylum.

Hatters Are Mad

New York, Jan. 15.—Strikes are expected in 75 hat factories in this section as the result of a decision of manufacturers to discontinue the use of the union label. Nearly 25,000 men will be affected. Four thousand men quit at Newark. Three thousand at Danburg, Conn., and 1,000 at South Norwalk. The men say the strike will become general tomorrow unless the decision is rescinded.

CRIMINAL TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT IS ABOUT ENDED

All petit jurors were excused this morning by Judge William Reed and the criminal term of court was practically ended, although the grand jury will remain in session the remainder of the week. Should any more indictments be returned a jury could be picked up or more probable the cases will be continued until the April criminal term.

Monday, February 8, the civil term of circuit court will open. Today the grand jury made the regular inspections. Rounds of court house and county jail were made, while about the noon hour the members, with County Judge Lightfoot, went to the county sanitarium, where after the inspection they were entertained at dinner by the superintendent, William Thompson.

Cases Disposed Of.
Hoyle Miller, colored, on a charge of forgery, was given two years in the penitentiary. Miller was arrested this week and his trip to the penitentiary will be a quick one.

The charges of false swearing and petit larceny against Luby Wyatt, colored, were continued until the April term of court.

The cases of Edgar Jones and John Thompson, colored, charged with petit larceny, were transferred to the county court.

F. M. McGathery was excused as a petit juror and J. W. Hart was appointed to serve in his place.

City Clerk Case.
The mandamus suit of Attorney J. D. Moequut against Maurice McIntyre, city clerk, was called in circuit court this morning, but was not tried. The case was continued until the fourth day of the February term.

Whole Family is Exterminated by Fire in Shack of Lumber Camp in Wisconsin—Companions Rescue Man.

Ashland, Wis., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Nate Sherrard and four children were burned to death in a fire which destroyed a shanty at a lumber camp. Sherrard tried vainly to rescue his family. When he failed he rushed into the flames and tried to die with the rest. Companions rescued him, but he was fatally burned.

Greek New Year.
New Year's day was observed yesterday by the small colony of 15 Greeks in Paducah. The Greeks prayed the old year out and the new year in and during the day one meal specially prepared was eaten. In large cities, where there are enough Greeks to keep up a church, services are held during the day, but as there is no church in Paducah that celebration could not be held. The American calendar is 14 days ahead of the Greek calendar.

Must Close on Sunday

The circuit court today sustained the police court in enforcing the Sunday closing law against store keepers and a fine of $50 was assessed in a case that was appealed from the police court. It is said the commonwealth's officers will strictly enforce the law, since it has been sustained by the higher court.

Benton Postmaster

Benton, Ky., Jan. 15. (Special.)—News of the appointment of Mr. W. S. Griffith as postmaster to succeed the late Hardin Ford, has been received here. Mr. Griffith is a well known merchant, and was chosen out of half a dozen applicants. The appointment was satisfactory to all the citizens of Benton. Judge E. Barry, a Democrat, has been postmaster since last summer, as he was elected by the bondsmen of Mr. Ford. Mr. Griffith was supported by F. M. Fisher.

ARRESTS MADE IN 1908 IN EXCESS OF ARRESTS IN 1907

All claims that the people did not have enough money to get into trouble were smashed to smithereens by the annual report of Chief of Police James Collins. According to the report there were 1,821 persons arrested in 1908 which is an increase of 129 arrests over the year of 1907, when 1,692 were arrested. The increase in crime has been various as there were double the number of murders. Four lives were taken by this route, while drunkenness, as well as gaming, showed an increase. One reason attributed for the increase was the various crusades conducted against vice by Mayor Smith soon after his inauguration. In keeping with the increase in the number of arrests there was an increase in the city's revenue from the police department, as $776.57 more was turned into the strong box.

Again the department slightly over drew its apportionment, as the expenses of the year amounted to $29,393.24, while the apportionment allowed the police department is $29,000. The expense was several hundred dollars greater for last year than 1907, but this is attributed to the extra precautions that were taken by the officials to prevent an attack on the city by the night riders.

From the fines $7,024.53 were collected, an increase of 11 per cent. over 1907. March was the banner month for revenue from the police court as $1,358.25 was collected, being due to the payment of fines by bawdy houses and gamblers. March also led in the number of arrests as 198 unfortunates were served with warrants. From the city pound $35.50 was collected.

Chief Collins asks that the expense of feeding the city prisoners while serving time, payment of the chain gang boss and other jail officials be charged to the street department. In his statement he says that the street department received credit for the work that is done on the streets, but that the expense has to be met with funds from the police apportionment. Should the board adopt this method it is hoped to end the deficit in the police department. Also the department asks for a new patrol wagon, as the old wagon is well worn after eight years of service.

PADUCAH WILL BE WHOLESALE TOWN FOR WHISKY TRADE

According to Prediction of Local Dealers, When Tennessee Goes Dry.

Inquiries From Nashville and Memphis.

CAIRO ALSO IS RECEPTIVE

PATTERSON HAS IT.
Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 15.—The Holladay bill, prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors in Tennessee after July 1, 1909, which has passed both houses of the general assembly, is now in the hands of Gov. Patterson for his approval. Gov. Patterson this morning was asked if he had any statement to make in regard to his attitude with reference to the statewide measure now before him for official consideration. He replied that he had no statement to give out just now. When asked if he had any intimation to offer, he replied, smilingly, that he had no observation of any character to make just at this time.

State wide prohibition in Tennessee which seems almost inevitable, will mean the addition of anywhere from 35 to 50 additional wholesale liquor dealers and shippers of whisky for Paducah, according to the prediction of one of the leading liquor dealers in the city. Already many of the largest firms in Tennessee have begun to inquire for locations out of the state of Tennessee so that whisky may be shipped into the prohibition states by the interstate commerce law. Paducah seems to be the logical location for the houses, as Tennessee and Cumberland rivers afford cheap shipping facilities into Tennessee and Alabama. Cairo will be the rival of Paducah for the business, as the Illinois city has more railroads. However, it is certain the express service will be bettered out of Paducah if a large number of houses locate here.

The inquiries from the firms have come from Memphis, Nashville and Chattanooga, and the addition of the business firms would mean a considerable increase in population, as the firms that choose Paducah as a location would mean the removal of the employees.

At present Paducah has 14 wholesalers and jobbers of whisky, and the addition of the houses from Tennessee would treble the business. The removal from Tennessee would mean an increase in the number of saloons in Paducah as practically all of the business would be interstate, although the liquor men contend that it would draw trade for all lines of trade.

Paducah has had a big share of the jug trade in Tennessee, but the houses of Memphis, Chattanooga and Nashville have had the bulk of the trade in Georgia and Alabama, owing to cheaper express rates. The liquor men make the contention that the states going dry has not decreased the business at all, but only throws the business to firms over the state line. One wholesale dealer said that the number of "blind tigers" in the dry states had kept up a steady demand, and although the liquor dealers have not given up hopes that the bill will not be passed over Governor Patterson's veto, no decrease in business is looked for.

George H. Goodman & company has a branch house in Memphis, but if the state waders win it will be moved to St. Louis.

Female Line Three Generations on Stage—Patti Rosa.

"Like father, like son," is a familiar quotation of ancient lineage, but it is not often that one hears of three generations of the female line following the same profession. This unusual occurrence is happily illustrated in the case of Patti Rosa, leading support with the Lyman Twins this season. Miss Patti Rosa should have a natural equipment for stage work, as both her mother and grandmother were footlight favorites of more than ordinary degree. The young lady is a daughter of the jolly Patti Rosa, remembered with much affection by the majority of the amusement-loving public, and Patti Rosa was a daughter of Madam Cerito, a famous figure on the Italian stage in the last generation. Skill in dancing was a great gift in common with all three of the family.

EVEN READY FOR ASSASSINATION

Says Tillman in Replying to Bonaparte.

Unscrupulous Men Know His Mail Is Being Held—May Not Have Stolen Papers.

"BUT THE PAPERS ARE GONE."

Washington, Jan. 15.—In the course of a speech replying to the recent letter of Attorney General Bonaparte on the Oregon land matter, speaking of the differences of recollection between himself and Attorney General Bonaparte, Senator Tillman declared:

"I am ready to let my word be put against his in any court in Christendom, and to let my record in the past for truthfulness, honesty and integrity stand against his."

He asserted he was not only dealing with President Roosevelt but with all cabinet officers who are in the league, "because, according to the newspapers, they are discussing me at cabinet meetings, and are determined to accomplish my ruin if possible."

"Ready for Anything."
"When I deal with unscrupulous men as I do now, I am prepared for anything, even the assassin's knife. My mail is being held up. I am satisfied of that. I will not say my room has been broken into, because there are keys that can open everything in this capitol. They may not have stolen my papers, but they are gone."

Tillman then narrated a conversation he had over the telephone yesterday with Attorney General Bonaparte, in which he asked whether suit had been brought against the Southern Oregon company, holder of the military road grant. After making inquiry of a clerk, Bonaparte told him he would write him a letter.

After having the letter of the attorney general read Tillman declared that up to this time, and after nine months, nothing had been done in response to the order of congress to bring the suit.

Slow Processes of Law.
Tillman referred to the motive of the attorney general. "We all know how slow the processes of law are, especially against millionaires; we all know the process of being ready to do it and of being 'anxious to do it.'"

The fact was that the attorney general had gone into print to bolster up the president, and charge him (Tillman) with not having talked to him about this matter. He said he did not like to use the adjective called for in this case, but would let his hearers fill it in for themselves. He had been frank in talking about the Oregon case with the attorney general and had made full explanation to him.

He then referred to Postmaster General Meyer and his statement that the president had been in possession of the facts in this case only since December 18, and characterized that as "falsehood No. 1." He also insisted that the postmaster general had made a mis-statement in reference to the time that a fraud order was issued against Dorr (one of the men concerned in the land deals.)

Letter Was Copied.
He also referred to the statement in the inspector's report that his letter to Reeder and Watkins had been copied and carefully compared with a later statement that instructions had been given to make that comparison now. He declared a constant effort was being made to shield the president from complicity in this investigation of a senator until very recently.

Tillman announced that he had received another circular sent out by Dorr in which the following statement was made:

"Some day I shall have justice and reparation, and when that day comes now not far distant, there will be a noise that will be heard around the world."

That statement by Dorr, Tillman insisted, was conclusively proof that Dorr had received assurance from the president that he would "drag Tillman down as a liar and scoundrel."

Exploded Bomb Friday.
"They exploded their bomb here last Friday and now two members of the cabinet are endeavoring to make the country believe Roosevelt is the most honest, noble, disinterested prosecutor of great malefactors that ever existed. Dorr says he is going to get revenge. Who could promise that to him two months or six weeks before the explosion of the bomb?"

KERN CHARGES DOUBLE DEALING

Secret Ballot Made Possible All Sorts of Treachery.

Had Made Hard Fight for Open Ballot—Lamb Tried to Throw Forces to Kern—Taggart for Him.

BUT HE HAD NO ACTIVE PART

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15.—The election of B. F. Shively, of South Bend, as nominee for United States senator by the Democratic members of the state legislature was followed by a statement from John W. Kern, who was Shively's strongest opponent. Concerning the secret ballot against which Kern made a hard fight, he says it made possible not only the betrayal of constituents by their representatives, but "all sorts of treachery, double dealing and corrupt practices."

Shively was elected on the twentieth ballot, after the caucus had lasted for five hours. The contest was a hard one. John E. Lamb, who stood for an open ballot, tried to throw his forces to Kern, but failed in the attempt. Kern left the statehouse, where the caucus was held, immediately after the final result was announced.

Thomas Taggart declared that he took absolutely no part in the senatorial contest. The Kern people are not denying this, but they declare that there was no effort to stop some things that were being done with Taggart's knowledge.

Sympathized With Kern.
"I want to say," said Taggart, "that my feelings have been with Kern all through this race. I don't believe there is anything in these stories of double crossing. I believe every member of the Marion county delegation was loyal to Kern."

"When shown a copy of Kern's charge, Shively refused to make any comments. Shively's room was crowded by legislators and friends who came to congratulate him on his victory. Messages of congratulations were received from national Democratic leaders, among them W. J. Bryan.

Shively was in conference yesterday afternoon with Governor Marshall at the state house, following a call from the governor. Shively will return to his home at South Bend today, but will be here January 19, when the legislature formally elects him to the senate.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

January Clearance Sale

Ladies', Misses and Children's Ready-to-Wear Garments, Suits, Skirts, Coats, Dresses, Underskirts, Waists, Kimonos, Furs, Etc.,

WE HAVE JUST CLOSED the most successful year in our business history in our Ready-to-Wear Department. Far more successful than we dared to ever hope, which goes to show that our goods offered were right both in quality and price. We started in last year to feature this department stronger than ever. This year we start with even stronger resolutions to have no stone unturned to make our name foremost without comparison for Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Garments. Holding the position that we do in the buying market, we are able to buy much cheaper, hence offer much better garments at same money than most merchants. We have just finished our inventory and are now ready to start a new year. New goods arriving now for spring, and, as our policy is to carry nothing over, we inaugurate our January Clearance Sale, at greatly reduced prices. All the surplus stock and odds and ends must be moved at once, so now is your time to profit by such saving prices. Come the first day for possibly the very garment you want will be the first to go. Beat the other women to it.

Daily Thought.

The best way to teach a virtue is to live it.—Frothingham.

Ignoring Washington weather, Teddy will not be conscious of much change when he enters the African jungles.

We sincerely trust nothing will be done to cripple the city financially,
so that such a meritorious enterprise
as the Home of the Friendless will be unhindered.

Why, to be sure, those senators, who are abusing Roosevelt, are his friends. Hadn't thought of that—Foraker and Tillman—Old Roosevelt guard, isn't it?

Let us not forget that the immediate question is whether congress will so restrict the secret service men, that they cannot be used in ferreting
out land thieves and rebaters.

"Some snow and ice; some cooler weather noticed this week," says the Cadiz Record, which is a hopeful sign.
A year ago the Record would not have dared notice anything like that for fear of the night riders.

The suicide of Carmichael has furnished Carthage, Ill., the second sensation in sixty-four years. The previous occasion was the now historical lynching of Joseph Smith, the Mormon leader, and his brother, Hyrum Smith. They were shot to death in the old Carthage jail, within a block of the home of Miss Miranda Hughes,
where Carmichael ended his existence.

MR. WALTERS AGAIN.

The cat's out of the bag. It was George Walters, who told the merchants of the city they would have to pay licenses for every article in their stores. This morning Mr. Walters' advocate says: "Naturally an official serving in the capacity of city treasurer, as is Mr. Walters, is compelled to collect such sums as are stipulated in the ordinance."

We once thought that the license inspector was the proper official to tell merchants what license they should pay, especially since this particular ordinance, which Mr. Walters undertakes to construe, specifically states that the mayor is referee; but after observing the ways of City Clerk Maurice McIntyre, we were inclined to withhold our opinion, until we observed what action Mr. McIntyre took.

It has been customary to consider the city treasurer as an officer, who receives and receipts for the money.
He neither fixes the tax rate, levies
the assessment, prepares the license ordinance nor construes the same.
However, it is different, as our contemporaries observe, with "an official
serving in the capacity of city treasurer, as is Mr. Walters." Yes, an official serving as city treasurer the way Mr. Walters is serving, naturally is expected to do most anything that is bizarre. Heretofore he has set great store by the opinion of the city solicitor, and he thinks he has to go by the language of the ordinance, which says the license inspector and
the mayor shall construe it.
If those agitated merchants will,

just compose themselves until we find out who are city treasurer and license inspector, we think they will suffer no inconvenience, and even if Mr. Walters should win his suit, he will take the amount the license inspector and the mayor say he shall.

THE DISCIPLINED HAND.
"Something is wrong with education that makes a forty dollar clerk of a boy, who might have been a forty thousand dollar farmer," says a writer in the Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle, and in that sentence is contained the budding spirit of the twentieth century.

It is not the difference in the amount of money the boy makes that counts, but the difference in his usefulness to society. If a boy, who could make a "forty thousand dollar farmer," is a "forty dollar clerk," it is proof that he would have performed his greatest service to society
as a farmer, and therein is the wrong done.

Service, service, is the call of religion, humanity and patriotism. Why should a man, who is deft with his hands and has a true eye and mechanical ingenuity, be made a miserable failure of a lawyer or doctor, compelled by his very lack of qualifications for success in either career to commit wrong or butcher his fellow man? Not only does such a pervasion of nature's purpose lessen a man's opportunity and capacity for service, but it puts him in a position, where he has to become, not a negative quantity, but an instrument of actual harm to society.

Is it not as high toned and respectable to build houses, and shoe horses and make machines, as it is to live by one's wits? And that is the way ninety-nine per cent of the population, aside from those engaged in manual occupation, do live.
This is branching off from the subject of drafting boys from the farms to the city; but it is only an amplification of the inherent defect of our educational system. Why should not boys be educated in our schools, to become good artisans and farmers, as well as professional men? Some day youths will be taught manual skill as well as nimbleness of wit in all our public schools. It requires a better quality of brains to construct a delicate piece of mechanism than to conjugate a Greek verb. The boy, who comes out of school with knowledge of higher mathematics, literature, ancient history and a smattering of science, and cannot drive a nail or saw a board straight, is not well educated. His hand and eye are not trained to accuracy. The baby learns to walk when it has disciplined its feet to obey the brain that commands.
When hand and foot and eye and vocal organs have been disciplined to obey in the same way, the youth is better equipped to face life's problems.

Education was originally for the few, whose natural inclination was away from mechanics and toward speculative philosophy, and of course, they applied themselves to science and art and literature. When education became general, instead of adapting the curricula to the needs of the people, the ambitions of parents was stimulated to making their boys "scholars," and so general education, intended to benefit the masses, has created artificial social barriers between professions and business and trade, and set boys out of their natural spheres in the midst of professional environments to which they never can adjust themselves.

When manual training and practical application of science to the common things of life become established in the curricula of the public schools, society generally will be changed—for boys, who love mechanics, once getting their hands on tools, will never loose their grip, and parental hopes of a "scholar" will be dashed, and instead parental pride in a first class, well educated mechanic, or farmer will be awakened. Scions of the house of prosperity will join the ranks of workers, and youths from the huts, as they do now, will take their places at the forum or the bar, and society will adjust itself properly. Then we will come to give a man his rightful place in the world, according to the service he renders mankind and his country.

Other changes will follow, too, in the social and business world, when educated men take to the work for which nature fitted them, and begin to demand for their trade its just rights and recognition; but that is a remote effect to be allowed to follow
in its natural order of sequence.

Chapter
Twenty-eight

It was late at night, and quiet reigned in Volsen—the quiet not of security, but of ordered vigilance. A light burned in every house; men lined the time worn walls and camped
in the market place; there were scouts out on the road as far as Frasluk. No news came from outside and no news
yet from the room in the guardhouse where the wounded king lay. The street on which the room looked was empty save for one man, who walked patiently up and down, smoking a cigar. Dunstanbury waited for Basil Williamson, who was in attendance on the king and was to pronounce to Vol-sen whether he could live or must die.
Dunstanbury had been glad that Basil could be of use, but for the rest he had listened to the story which Zerkovitch told him with an amused, rather contemptuous indifference, with an Englishman's wonder why other countries cannot manage their affairs better and something of a traveler's pleasure at coming in for a bit of such vivid, almost blazing, "local color" in the course of his journey. But whether Alexis reigned or Sergius mattered nothing to him, and in his opinion, very little to anybody else.

Nor had he given much thought to the lady whose name figured so promi-nently in Zerkovitch's narrative, the Baroness Dobrava. Such a personage seemed no less appropriate to the surroundings than the rest of the story—no less appropriate and certainly not a whit more important. Of course he hoped Basil would make a good report, but his mind was not disturbed. His chief hope was that the claims of humanity would not prolong his stay in Volsen beyond a few days. It was a picturesque little place, but not one for a long visit, and, in any case, he was homeward bound now, rather eager for the pleasures of the London season after his winter journey—the third he had made in the interests of a book on Russia which he had in contemplation, a book designed to recommend him as an expert student of foreign affairs. He could hardly consider that these goings
on in Kravonia came within the purview of a serious study of his subject,
but it was a pleasant, moonlit night,
the old street was very quaint, the crisis he had happened on bizarre and amusing. He smoked his cigar and waited for Basil without impatience.

He had strolled a hundred yards away and just turned to loiter back when he saw a figure come out of the guardhouse, pause a moment and then advance slowly toward him. The sheepskin cap and tunic made him think at first that the stranger was one of the Volsenian levy. The next moment he saw the skirt. At once he guessed that he was in the presence of Baroness Dobrava, the heroine of the piece, as he had called her in his own mind and with a smile.

Evidently she meant to speak to him.
He threw away his cigar and walked to meet her. As they drew near to each other he raised his hat. Sophy bowed gravely. Thus they met for the first time since Sophy washed her lettuce in the scullery at Morpington and at the young lord's bidding fetched Lorenzo the Magnificent a bone. This meeting was, however remotely, the result of that. Dunstanbury had started her career on the road which had led her to where she was.

"I've seen Mr. Williamson," she said,
"and he knows me now. But you don't know me, do you, Lord Dunstanbury?
And anyhow, perhaps you wouldn't remember."

She had been a slip of a girl when he first saw her, in a print frock, washing lettuces. With a smile and a deprecatory gesture he confessed his ignorance and his surprise. "Really, I'm afraid I don't. I've been such a traveler and meet so many"—An acquaintance with the Baroness Dobrava was among the last with which he would have credited himself or perhaps, to speak his true thoughts, charged his reputation.

"Mr. Williamson knew me almost directly—the moment I reminded him of my mark." She touched her cheek.
Dunstanbury looked more closely at her, a vague recollection stirring in him. Sophy's face was very sad, yet she smiled just a little as she added:
"I remember you so well—and your dog Lorenzo. I'm Sophy Grouch of Morpington, and I became Lady Meg's companion. Now do you remember?"

He stepped quickly up to her, peered into her eyes and saw the red star.
"Good heavens!" he said, smiling at her in an almost helpless way. "Well,
that is curious!"

"There's nothing much in that," said Sophy. "I'll tell you all about that soon if you have time. Tonight I can think of nothing but mon-seigneur Mr. Williamson has extracted the bullet, but I'm afraid he's very bad. You won't take Mr. Williamson away until—until it's settled—one way or the other, will you?"

"Sophy Grouch! And
you are—Baroness Dobrava?"

"Yes, I am. And you
are—Lady Meg?"

"Yes, I am. And you
are—Lady Meg?"

"Yes, I am. And you
are—Lady Meg?"

"Yes, I am. And you
are—Lady Meg?"

"Yes, I am. And you
are—Lady Meg?"

Alcohol is a Preventive.
Alcohol is recognized the world over as the proper, most efficient and wholesome preserver of medicinal compounds, and while some journalists try to alarm the world by the cry that patent "medicines contain more alcohol than beer," they neglect to state that proprietary medicines are taken in doses from a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful, while beer is a beverage that is consumed in quantities from a glass to several quarts a day.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains only 18 per cent alcohol, simply enough to preserve the roots and herbs from which it is made, and may be relied upon by every woman in the land as a reliable honest and sure remedy for the ill peculiar to her sex.

"Neither Basil nor I will leave so long as we can be of the least service
to you," he told her.
With a sudden impulse she put her hands in his. "It's strangely good to find you here tonight—so strange and so good! It gives me strength, and I want strength. Oh, my friends are brave men, but you—well, there's something in home and the same blood, I suppose."

Dunstanbury thought that there was certainly something in having two Englishmen about, instead of Kravonians only, but such a blunt sentiment might not be acceptable. He pressed her hands as he released them.
"I rejoice in the chance that brings us here. You can have every confidence in Basil. He's a first rate man. But tell me about yourself. We have time now, haven't we?"

"Really, I suppose we have! Monseigneur has been put to sleep, but I couldn't sleep. Come, we'll go up on the wall."

CONDEMNED MEN

ARE SICK IN COUNTY JAIL AT JACKSON, TENN.

Difficult to Find Out About Condition of the Reelfoot Lake Night Riders.

Jackson, Tenn., Jan. 15.—It is understood on good authority that Garrett Johnson, Sam Applewhite, Arthur Clear and T. D. Burton, four night riders, who are now in the county jail under death sentence,
have been more or less seriously ill
for the past two or three days with tonsillitis. The authorities seem loath to give out any information in reference to the case.

Dr. Frank Hamilton, physician for the supreme court prisoners, to which these men have appealed in hopes of saving their life, stated that he had dismissed the cases. When asked further as to the men's condition several days ago and further particulars about the matter he stated that he did not care to make a statement.

The

THE CAUSE OF COLDS.

Good Advice Regarding the Prevention of Coughs and Colds.

If people would only properly fortify and strengthen their system, about 95 per cent of coughs, colds and pneumonia might be avoided. These troubles are simply the result of weakness, which produces a catarrhal condition of the mucous membrane, which is as an internal skin of the body. When the skin is weakened, it becomes affected with germs which are carried through the system by the blood. These parasites attack and break these delicate tissues and set up a soreness which produces what is in reality an external scrofula.

The only thing that will cure coughs and colds and prevent pneumonia is a medication which is absorbed and carried by the blood so that the diseased membrane is disinfected, cleaned, soothed and healed. We have a remedy which we honestly believe infallible and unsurpassable for the prevention and cure of coughs, colds and all catarrhal conditions. It is the prescription of a famous physician, who has an enviable reputation of 30 years of cures gained through the use of this medicine. We promise to either effect a cure in every case or make no charge for the medicine. We urge everybody in Paducah who has need of such a medicine to try Rexall Mucu-Tone.

It stands to reason that we could not afford to make such statements and give our own personal guarantee to this remedy if we were not absolutely positive that we could substantiate our claim in every particular, and we see no reason why anyone should hesitate to accept our offer and try it. We have two sizes of Rexall Mucu-Tone. Prices 50c, and $1.00. Sometimes a 50c bottle is sufficient for a cure. As a general thing, the most chronic case is cured with an average of three large bottles. Remember, the medicine will cost you nothing if you are not satisfied in every particular. W. B. McPherson, Druggist, Paducah.

GREAT DAY

PRESENT OPPORTUNITIES FOR MONEY SAVING UNEQUALLED.

Garments That Sold Up to $40 a Suit Are Now $15.95.

Today is verily the day of bargains. Probably never before were better opportunities for the practice of economy offered the people, and that they are keenly aware of that fact and eagerly taking advantage of them is evidenced by the success attending the great sales being held in Paducah just now.

The local house that has blazed the way with the most extraordinary price reductions is the new store of R. L. Culley & Co. The first season it inaugurated a clearance sale, in the vernacular, it made the others sit up and take a few observations. Each succeeding season has been a repetition of that one, and this season has surpassed them all.

On another page of today's issue of The Sun will be found some remarkably low prices on everything this house sells, and when it is remembered that everything in the store is bright, fresh stock, the offerings will be more fully appreciated.

Choice of any suit in the house for $15.95 is an index to the character of this sale.

LeRoy-Trantham Marriage This Morning.

The marriage of Miss Ora LeRoy, of this city, and Mr. Joseph Trantham of Cairo, Ill., took place this morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. J. T. Evans, 1219 Tennessee street. The Rev. J. W. Bruner, of the Second Baptist church, performed the ceremony. It was a quiet home affair.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. M. LeRoy, of 408 Fountain avenue. She is an attractive young woman and until recently has made her home in Booneville, Ind. Mr. Trantham is connected with the Singer Manufacturing company of Cairo, and is a capable young man. He is the brother of Mr. John P. Trantham, of this city, the popular Illinois Central engineer.

Wedding of Popular Texas Girl Known Here.

Invitations have been received in Paducah to the approaching marriage of Miss Mabel Key, of Corsicana, Tex., to Mr. Thomas J. Stoveall on January 27. The wedding will take place in the First Christian church of Corsicana at 8 o'clock in the evening, and will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride.

Miss Key is a niece of Mr. A. B. Sowell, of this city, and has visited her cousins, Miss Mary K. Sowell and Miss Caroline Sowell, several years ago. She is a girl of charming personality and made a host of friends here. She was the recipient of much social attention in Paducah.

New Eastern Star Chapter.

Mrs. Lora Johnston, past grand worthy matron, Mrs. Anna Wright, Mrs. Kate Kellard and Mr. E. W. Whittemore left this morning for Eddyville, where a new chapter of the Eastern Star was instituted. The new chapter has 20 members and started off well. Mrs. Johnston instituted the chapter, as she presided as a special deputy. The Paducah members will return at 6:10 o'clock tonight.

Mrs. Bradshaw Hostess of Magazine Club.

The Magazine club was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. William F. Bradshaw, Jr., at her home, 816 tenth and Broadway. Several interesting reports were given. Miss Minnie Ratcliffe gave an article on "Woman and Her Larger Home," telling the influence of women in civic affairs. Mrs. Vernon Blythe told a story from the Harper's called "Plagiarist," by Georgia Wood Pangborn. Miss Ora V. Leigh reported an article from the Atlantic Monthly on "Two Plays by Charles Rand Kennedy," by Elizabeth Luther Cary. Miss Mattie Fowler gave an article called "American Mud," which brought out the American tendency to belittle the nation's heroes. Mrs. Vernon Blythe was selected to fill the vacancy in the vice-presidency, caused by the absence of Miss Helen Lowry from the city. The luncheon was a prettily appointed affair.

Jefferson School Improvement League met this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Jefferson school. The topic for discussion was "Home Influence."

The topics discussed were:
1. "The Boy and the Home"—Judge William Marble.
2. "The Girl and the Home"—Mrs. Harry Williamson.

Young Woman Known Here Weds in Ohio.

Miss Carrie B. Well, of Cleveland, O., who is well known in this city, was married at the Hotel Whitehall, in Cleveland, to Mr. S. B. Kaufman, of that city, Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a southern wedding trip.

Miss Well is a daughter of the late Bernard Well, of Paducah, and this was her early childhood home. She is a niece of Mr. Jacob Well and of the late Messrs. Henry Well and Meyer Well, of this city, and has visited here since going to Cleveland to reside. She is a pretty young woman and is popular here.

Sunday School Pupils Entertained.

Mrs. Eva Jane Washburn and Mrs. Herman Karnes are entertaining the pupils of the primary department of the Fountain Avenue Methodist Sunday school this afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock in the parlors of the church. Refreshments will be served during the afternoon.

Linen Shower for Bride-Elect. Mrs. Eli G. Boone is having a prettily planned linen shower at her home, 308 South Sixth street, this afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock in compliment to Miss Frances Terrell, whose wedding will take place January 26.

Beautifully Appointed Card Party.

One of the beautiful affairs of the winter was Mrs. Frank Riecke's card party on Thursday afternoon at her home in the West End. It was a charmingly appointed party throughout and one of the largest card parties ever given in Paducah.

The handsome home was effectively decorated with cut flowers, carnations and roses being used in profusion. The 18 tables were attractively arranged on both the first and second floors. At the 7 tables upstairs were seated the girls of the younger set and the younger married women. There were 11 tables downstairs.

The games were kept by Mrs. Lillie Boyd, Mrs. Clara Burnett and Miss Arlene Reeves.

The updates prize, a cut glass powder box, was won by Miss Philip

THREE OF A KIND

Dropped Coffee, Picked Up Postum, and Health.

The harmful action of caffeine—the drug in coffee and tea—is the same in all cases, it is only a matter of degree. One person may suffer more in the way of heart palpitation, sour stomach, nervousness, or insomnia, than another, but the poison is there at the time, if one continues to drink coffee or tea.

A Pennsylvania lady and two friends learned the truth about coffee in the same way. The lady writes: "About four years ago I had an attack of nervous prostration and a great deal of trouble with my heart. Sometimes I feared I was dying, and my doctor seemed unable to find out the cause of my trouble."

"I would frequently wake at night with these attacks and the doctor said there was some constant irritation of the nerves, and he began to think some organic disease was at work."

"One day I was told of a case very similar to mine, and that the woman could find no relief until she stopped drinking coffee. I did not like the idea of giving up coffee, for I was very fond of it."

"Having read frequently of Postum, I determined to try it. It certainly made a great change in me. Those spells left me entirely."

"My most intimate friend was afflicted as I was. In fact the similarity of our afflictions drew us together in the first place. When she saw the great change Postum had made in me she tried it and was benefited as I was."

"The beneficial effects of Postum on us two induced a neighbor to follow our example and so we are three of a kind who can't say enough in praise of Postum."

TOBACCO

Bohmer's Warehouse

9th & Harrison, Paducah, Ky. Old Phone 72

Empty hogsheads furnished free to parties wishing to ship their tobacco by rail or river.

Tobacco is unloaded in large, flat baskets, each grade to itself, weighed and receipt given owner, showing number of draft and pounds thereof. A corresponding ticket is placed on each pile. The highest bid is written on ticket and, should owner accept same, by presenting at office receipt previously given, the cash is handed over.

Should the bid offered not be satisfactory, the tobacco can be offered the next day or at any other time thereafter.

It costs absolutely nothing to offer your tobacco unless bid is accepted, in which case we charge 15 cents per hundred pounds and 2 cents on the dollar.

The greatest demand among manufacturers and dealers is for loose tobacco and, since it will bring more money offered loose, why go to the expense of having prized, stored, insured, inspected and looked after?

You will get more money for your tobacco when offered to the highest bidder in open competition with twenty-five buyers trying to buy than when you expect or require one buyer to buy millions of pounds without competition at a round price.

SALES EVERY DAY

LIVESTOCK.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 15.—Cattle—Receipts, 64 head; for the week thus far, 2,910. The market ruled quiet today; not many cattle here and but little doing in that department. Desirable butcher cattle, as well as the better grade feeders and stockers, sold very readily. Excellent demand for good slop steers. Common, light, trashy stockers slow. Bulls firm, canners and cutters slow. Milch cows unchanged. No heavy cattle on sale. We quote: Shipping steers, $4.50 @ 5.75; beef steers, $3 @ 4.75; fat heifers and cows, $2 @ 4.50; cutters, $2 @ 3.65; feeders, $3 @ 4.75; stockers, $2 @ 4.25; choice milch cows, $35 @ 45; common to fair, $10 @ 30.

Calves—Receipts, 82; for the week thus far, 448. The market ruled about steady. Bulk of the best, around 7½c. Choice higher. Medium, 4 @ 6c; common, 2½c.

Hogs—Receipts, 3,082; for the week thus far, 19,398. The market ruled steady on strictly choice corned Kentucky hogs. One hundred and sixty pounds and up, $6.25; 130 @ 160 pounds, $5.75; pigs ranged from $5.30 for heavy pigs down to $4.90 for light pigs; roughs, $5.75 down. The buyers are still discriminating against Tennessee hogs, and hogs coming from doubtful sections of this state, refusing to buy them except under guarantee. Good many of that class unsold.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 68; for the week thus far, 241. The market ruled steady. Best lambs, 5 @ 6c; culs, 3 @ 5c; fat sheep, 3½c down. No demand for common sheep and lambs.

MAY COMPROMISE ROOSEVELT FIGHT

The Widening Breach Alarms the Leaders.

A Movement to Patch Up a Peace With the President Is On Foot.

MAKE EFFORT TO STEM TIDE.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Special committees of investigation in both houses of congress are inquiring into the right of the president of the United States to use secret service men for purposes other than those specifically provided by law.

A resolution of inquiry has been offered inquiring into the authority of the president to permit the purchase of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the steel trust.

The right of the war department now to use $2,000,000 emergency appropriation, made during the Spanish-American war, ten years ago, has been sharply challenged.

The question of whether the president can refuse to transmit to congress information, letters or papers called for by the senate is raised in a resolution offered, and the further question of whether the president has the authority to authorize a cabinet officer to withhold information called for by a formal resolution of the senate.

Still Another Inquiry Probable.

The strongest of pressure has been brought to bear upon Senator Scott, and the members of the committee on public buildings and grounds, to bring in a resolution calling upon the president to state by what authority he authorized the demolition of the old Pennsylvania railroad station here on the Mall. Before the day was over there was a report that such a resolution was to be introduced by Senator Scott, who felt called upon to send around and vigorously deny the report.

These are some of the recent developments in congress pointing in the direction of friction between that body and President Roosevelt. It will be recalled that these dispatches indicated at the beginning of the present congressional session that the president had been informed of a plan and

In Admiralty.

Douglas Jones, et al., in admiralty, vs. Steamer Scotia.

Whereas libels have been filed in the District Court of the United States, for the Western District of Kentucky, at Paducah, on December 24th, 29th and 30th, 1908, by Douglas Jones, West Kentucky Coal Co., and Ayer & Lord Tie Co., against the steamer Scotia, her engines, tackle, apparel, furniture, etc., and owners, alleging in substance that said boat owes to them jointly in the sum of $58,330, for barge hire, coal, supplies, etc., that same has never been paid, and pray process against said steamer Scotia, that same may be condemned and sold to pay said claims, with cost and expenses.

Now, therefore, in pursuance to the motion under seal of said court, to me directed, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming said boat Scotia, or in any way interested therein, that they be and appear before the District Court of the United States in the city of Paducah, Kentucky, on or before the 1st day of March, 1909, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, then and there to interpose their claims and make all their allegations in that behalf.

BEWARE OF THE BRIGHTS DISEASE

Says Lame Back and Urinary Troubles Are Danger Signals.

More people succumb each year to some form of kidney trouble than any other cause. The slightest form of kidney derangement often develops into Bright's kidney disease, diabetes or dropsy. When either of these diseases are suspected the sufferer should at once seek the best medical attention possible. Consult only a good, first-class physician.

There are many of the lesser symptoms of kidney trouble which can be treated at home as stated by a well-known authority. For some of these, such as backache, pain in the region of the kidneys, weak bladder, frequency, (especially at night), painful scalding and other urinary troubles, try the following simple home remedy: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. These simple ingredients are harmless and can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them by shaking well in a bottle. The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is no more effective remedy known to relieve all forms of rheumatism, because it acts directly upon the kidneys and blood. It cleans the clogged-up pores in the kidneys so they can filter and strain from the blood the poisonous uric acid and waste matter which if not eliminated remain in the blood, decompose and settle about the joints and muscular tissues causing the untold suffering and deformity of rheumatism.

Backache is nature's signal notifying the sufferer that the kidneys are not acting properly. "Take care of your kidneys," is now the physician's advice to his patients.

So apparent has the situation become to leading senators that a strong effort is to be made to stem the tide. Leading Republican senators are telling their colleagues that the close of Mr. Roosevelt's administration is so near that it will avail little to make him the subject of an attack now or attempt to discipline him. They are plain in their pleas that further efforts along the line of inquiries in the form of resolutions and attacks from the floor be abandoned for the good of the party and for the good of the reputation of the congress. It is understood that, irrespective of the view taken here of the merits of the controversies involved, senators are getting letters and telegrams from constituents urging the president's end of the contentions and making it clear that the country is still very largely in sympathy with the president.

President Urged to Be Temperate.

Senators believe they can stem the tide if the president shows the slightest disposition to meet them half way. They have been told that the president is inclined to withhold information as to the expenditures under the $3,000,000 appropriation, and if he does it is felt that a direct crisis is promised between the senate and the president. Some of his senatorial friends have asked him at least to be circumspect and diplomatic in his reply to the senate's request for information along this line, knowing that there is a pronounced feeling of jealousy as to the prerogative of the senate in demanding information from the president and even more so of the government departments. It is contended by the senate that while cabinet officers are in no way constitutional officers, they are subject to the senate to the extent that their salaries can be stopped or their departments restricted or even abolished.

No Rule to Muzzle Tillman.

It is the occasion of grave regret to the senate leaders that there is no rule of the senate prohibiting senators from impugnating the motives or casting aspersions on the character of the president and courts, and it has been determined to adopt such a rule early in the next session. The existing rules prohibit imputing to any senator "any conduct or motive unworthy or unbecoming a senator" and the casting or aspersions on any state, but that is as far as they go. Had there been a rule such as it is proposed to adopt, Mr. Foraker would doubtless have been called to order yesterday, but it is especially regretted, in view of Senator Tillman's persistent declaration that he purposes to "get even with the president" in a speech which will "perforate the executive hide." It is feared that Mr. Tillman will perpetuate a serious violation of the dignity and decorum of the senate, and there is no rule under which he can be called to order.

"Mrs. Pugsley doesn't seem to like Mrs. Pinkley." "No. She can't forgive her." "Why, what was that trouble?" "Mrs. Pinkley had a remarkably good cook and Mrs. Pugsley coaxed her to leave Mrs. Pinkley. Then Mrs. Pinkley got a still better cook."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SECRET SERVICE MATTER REVIVED

When Printing 2,000,000 Copies of Rebnke is Tabled.

Postal Savings Bank Is Hoped for at This Session By Senator Hopkins—G. A. R.

WANTS NATIONAL LINCOLN DAY.

Washington, Jan. 15.—There was a recrudescence in the house of the controversy of that body with President Roosevelt regarding the language used by him in his annual message to congress bearing on the members of congress and the secret service, when Landis, of Indiana, offered a resolution providing for the printing of two million copies of the proceedings in the house of last Friday which resulted in the administering of a rebuke to the chief executive. The printing involved an expenditure of $68,000. The resolution, after a brief but spirited discussion, was unanimously tabled on motion of Smith, of Iowa.

The consensus of opinion was that the house having in a dignified way disposed of the matter, there was no need to revive it, especially as the public, through the press, already was familiar with the controversy. Many of Illinois, Foster, of Vermont, Townsend, of Michigan, Williams, of Mississippi, and Smith, of Iowa, opposed the resolution.

Although he charged that the president's utterances "were insulting and offensive," Williams declared the house should not dignify the matter further by action such as the resolution proposed.

One of the most vigorous speeches against the resolution was by Smith, who argued that the only possible excuse for it was that owing to the events of the day the house proceedings were not given general treatment in the press as was accorded the president's message regarding Tillman. He declared he was willing to go to his constituents on his record in the house "unaided by an appropriation from the federal treasury."

Restored Their Health But Cost Them Nothing

Thousands of stomach and bowel sufferers have found the means of permanent good health and permanent good digestion through Dr. Caldwell's offer to send any sufferer a free trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound. He believes from watching for twenty years what it has done that it will cure any case of chronic constipation, indigestion and dyspepsia, sour stomach, torpid liver, heartburn, biliousness, sick headache and similar disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. It is pleasant to take, acts mildly but none the less effectively, never gripes, and is in every way an ideal laxative for the family. It is wonderful in children's stomach troubles, and they like its agreeable taste. It is a vast improvement over griping salts and cathartic pills, which are simply a temporary relief, while Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a permanent cure. Its tonic properties build up the stomach and intestinal muscles. Thousands are buying it of their druggists at 50 cents and $1 a bottle, but those who have never used it should write the Doctor for a free trial bottle so that they can make a test without expense. If you have a stomach, liver or bowel disorder, or any member of your family has, send your address and a free bottle will be sent to your home, fully prepaid. In this way legions have been restored to health without a cent of cost. Read these letters and write today.

of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin The Nation's Safeguard of Health FOR EVERYBODY

For fifteen years I suffered from stomach trouble and constipation, until it seemed as if death were the only relief. The most prevalent symptoms were bloating and pressure against the heart and the most distressing pains across the stomach. I was a free trial bottle so that they can make a test without expense. If you have a stomach, liver or bowel disorder, or any member of your family has, send your address and a free bottle will be sent to your home, fully prepaid. In this way legions have been restored to health without a cent of cost. Read these letters and write today.

We received the sample bottle of Syrup Pepsin and one regular 50 cent bottle and are now using a $1.00 bottle. I feel greatly benefited by its use and expect to continue using it until I am entirely cured. I am 48 years old and was afflicted with indigestion and liver trouble and general prostration, but am feeling better since I began using your medicine than I have for years before. —Mrs. Brick Finneum, Jackson, Kentucky.

I received your sample bottle of Syrup Pepsin and after taking it I bought several bottles from my druggist. I had a good remedy for indigestion, and also constipation. I don't regret the money I paid for it. —Ida A. Fortune, Grand Junction, Tenn.

About four years ago I was taken ill with indigestion and stomach trouble. After trying several remedies I was induced to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. After taking a bottle of a bottle I was entirely relieved. After taking a bottle in my house since. I find it the most stomach tonic I have ever used and gladly recommend it to all who have stomach trouble. —C. Fowler, Carson City, Mich.

I used your Syrup Pepsin last summer for indigestion, constipation and biliousness. I had a good remedy for indigestion, and also constipation. I don't regret the money I paid for it. —Ida A. Fortune, Grand Junction, Tenn.

$300, and accumulated interest. Senator Fulton urged Carter to permit the bill to go over in order that the omnibus claims bill might be taken up. He ventured the belief that all the senators realized there could be no vote on the measure at the present session.

"All the senators do not realize that," replied Carter.

"If what the senator from Oregon suggests is true," injected Hopkins, "I hope the bill will be passed in season and out of season. It is a bill in the interest of the people and is favored by the president, by the president-elect and by the postmaster general, and it should pass."

Carter said that after the senators had had an opportunity to speak he would ask that a day be fixed for a vote. The bill was then laid aside.

For Lincoln Celebration.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The grand army desires a national celebration of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Lincoln February 12, and has asked President Roosevelt to issue a proclamation to the country inviting and urging such a celebration. The matter was laid before the president by General H. M. Nevins, of New Jersey, commander-in-chief of the organization, and General F. F. Burdette, of this city, past commander-in-chief. The president said that he would be glad to give consideration to the subject and would take it up with his cabinet at tomorrow's meeting.

Watched Fifteen Years.

"For fifteen years I have watched the working of Bucklen's Arnica Salve; and it has never failed to cure any sore, boil, ulcer or burn to which it was applied. It has saved us many a doctor bill," says A. F. Hardy, of East Wilton, Maine. 25c at all druggists.

Mind Your Business!

If you don't nobody will. It is your business to keep out of all the trouble you can and you can and will keep out of liver and bowel trouble if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They keep biliousness, malaria and jaundice out of your system. 25c at all druggists.

Leaf Tobacco Exports.

A decrease is shown in the total volume of leaf tobacco exported from the United States during the month of November, 1908, both as compared with the corresponding month of 1907 and the preceding month of October, 1908. The total export for the month aggregated 19,492,276 pounds, a decrease of 6,020,543 pounds, or 24 per cent., as compared with the volume exported during November, 1907. Compared with October, 1908, the decrease amounts to 5,030,566 pounds, or 20 per cent.

The largest shipments were as usual, made to the United Kingdom, which took 10,963,574 pounds, or 56 per cent. of the total exports for the month. The amount taken by the United Kingdom in November was 1,832,771 pounds, or 15 per cent, less than were exported to the same country the corresponding month of 1907. Italy again ranked second among the largest purchasers of leaf tobacco from the United States in November, having imported 1,857,055 pounds, or about 10 per cent. of the total amount shipped to all countries during the month. In November, 1907, Italy took 3,712,623 pounds.

The third heaviest purchaser in November was the Netherlands, which imported 1,332,525 pounds, or about 7 per cent. of the total amount shipped to all countries during the month. In November, 1907, the Netherlands took only 805,493 pounds of leaf from the United States.

Outside of the shipments to British North America, which amounted to 1,060,138 pounds in November, no other countries took more than a million pounds during the month.

During the eleven months of the calendar year ending with November, 1908, there were exported from the United States, 285,170,532 pounds of leaf tobacco, as compared with 297,038,556 pounds exported during the corresponding period of 1907. This is a decrease of 11,868,024 pounds, or about 4 per cent.

The greatest increase in the volume of leaf tobacco taken by the various countries during the expired eleven months of the calendar year, as compared with the same period of 1907, are shown in the countries listed as follows, taking rank in the order named: United Kingdom, 24,699,357 pounds; British Australia, 3,168,536 pounds; and Italy 1,936,495 pounds.

The greatest decreases in the volume taken by the various countries during the same period were: Spain, 19,839,393 pounds; Germany, 8,559,781 pounds; France, 2,813,448 pounds; Belgium, 2,190,477 pounds; and other Europe, 2,093,742 pounds.

Of the twenty countries reported only seven show an increase for the eleven months of the calendar year.

CRIMINAL ACTION

MAY BE INSTITUTED AGAINST PANAMA LIBELLERS.

Washington, Jan. 15.—It is learned upon reliable authority that the department of justice has turned over to United States District Attorney Stimson, of the southern district of New York, all the papers connected with the Panama canal purchases that have been the target for criticism for the last six months. It is believed this transfer is made with the view of bringing criminal action in New York against publishers of newspapers who have been held responsible for the reflections on the transaction. Attorney Stimson, it is expected, will turn the papers over to District Attorney Jerome for presentation to the grand jury, that a suit may be brought under the laws of New York.

Refused to Discuss Matter.

New York, Jan. 15.—United States District Attorney Stimson declined to discuss the report that the department in Washington has sent him papers in the matter of the Panama canal purchase for prosecution of newspaper publishers in this city under New York state laws.

ROJESTVENSKY PASSES AWAY

Had Been in Russian Navy Most of His Life.

Accused of Cowardice on Defeat By Togo in Battle of Japan Sea, Pleading Guilty.

BUT SENTENCE WAS COMUTED

St. Petersburg, Jan. 15.—Death is announced of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky, who commanded the Russian fleet in May of 1905, when it was practically annihilated by the Japanese in the battle of the Sea of Japan.

In Japanese War. Sinovi, Petrovitch Rojestvensky, who was about 60 years old, has been in the Russian naval service the greater part of his life. In 1904, after the disasters which had befallen the Russian warships in their conflicts with the Japanese, Rojestvensky was given personal command of the Russian Baltic fleet with orders to take it to Vladivostok.

When the fleet was off Dogger's Banks in the North Sea it came upon the North British fishing fleet, and believing they were Japanese some of the Russian ships fired upon the fishermen. They caused damage for which Great Britain recovered $320,000 from Russia.

The Japanese during Rojestvensky's voyage had captured Port Arthur and sunk or captured most of the Russian warships that had been bottled up there, and this caused a change in the plans of Rojestvensky to take his fleet northward to Vladivostok. Advancing into the China Sea, where coal and provisions were taken on board, Rojestvensky in May, 1905, was joined by Admiral Nebogatoff's division and the combined fleet started through the strait of Korea on their way to Vladivostok.

Between Korea and Japan, in the Straits of Tsu-Shima on May 27, the Russians ran into Vice Admiral Togo's naval ambuscade and in the conflict Togo captured or disabled eight battleships, nine cruisers, three coast defense ships, nine destroyers, one auxiliary cruiser, six special service steamers and two hospital ships. The Russian loss was 4,000 men killed and 7,300 taken prisoners. The Japanese lost three torpedo boats and 116 men killed and 538 wounded.

The battleships Kuznetsov, up in battle and the vice admiral sustained severe wounds. He was then conveyed to the destroyer Bidovy, which surrendered to the Japanese battleships.

After returning to Russia he and other officers were charged with cowardice and put on trial. Though he pleaded guilty he was declared not guilty and his officers were sentenced to death, but the sentences were commuted.

BIG CROWD

ATTENDS REVIVAL SERVICES AT FIRST CHRISTIAN.

Full Attendance of Chorus Choir Assist Dr. Crossfield—"Drifting Away From God."

The forbidding weather, last night, had but little effect on the attendance at the revival services at the First Christian church. Full attendance of the chorus choir and the singing was spirited and inspiring. "Drifting Away From God" was the subject of President Crossfield's sermon, and Prof. Sturgis' solo: "Drifting Down," was a fine introduction to it and was sung with splendid effect. Dr. Crossfield mentioned several things that set people adrift religiously—neglect of the Bible, and non-church attendance was thought to be quite a general cause. "How many of you children," said the doctor, "can go home tonight and put your hand upon the Bible in your home before you turn on the light?" Some children of mature years, he thought, might not be able to perform that little feat. And yet the Bible is the chart and compass, and the only one, that can guide us over the sea of life and into the power of eternal safety and peace. Neglect of prayer another cause. This will cause the Christian to relax his hold upon God. Ultra fashionable society sets some good people adrift religiously. Eyes are blinded by the gloss and glitter of fashion, and souls surfeited by mammon.

The sermon was interspersed with many striking illustrations. A conference of the members will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Sunbeam choir will meet at 4 o'clock for practice, and will sing at the evening service. Dr. Crossfield will give his third lecture to Sunday school workers at 4 o'clock and preach again at night.

At the close of the evening service there will be a social hour in the lecture room, and the ladies will serve light refreshments. This will give the people an opportunity to meet the evangelist and to become acquainted with one another.

Dr. Crossfield spoke this morning to the students of Draught's Business college.

Give me, O Lord, a mild, a peaceable, a meek and an humble spirit, that, remembering my own infirmities, I may bear with those of others; that, considering my character, I may rebuke with all long-suffering and gravity; that I may think lowly of myself, and not be angry when others also think lowly of me; that I may be patient toward all men, gentle and easy to be entreated. Amen. —Bishop Wilson (1722).

No mere effort to do one's duty can fill the measure of love, and nothing else in human relationship can take its place.—Forward.
